Wise Words

The book of Proverbs is challenging to interpret in that these are sayings of the wise...statements that are good and that prove true and accurate in most places and instances...at most times...but not always.

As we've all observed, the things that Proverbs declare are not always the way things work out in a broken world.

There are many Proverbs that counsel us about self-control in speech, including Proverbs 17:27, which reads, "Persons who have knowledge speak words with even-temperament." George Schwab translates it, "Those who withhold words know knowledge – whoever has understanding has a cool spirit."

This means that there is an even-ness to the wise when they speak. That's not to say you can't be emotionally charged or excited about something that's worthy of excitement. Certainly you can.

The idea, though, is that the wise watch what they say carefully – they don't react to things and events. They stay on an even keel and speak with intentionality and purpose, controlling their responses and bringing them in line with a godly demeanor.

Eduardo and Cindi Angelo spoke of this sort of thing a few weeks ago...about how one way Christians are salt in our world is to be a soothing presence of peace...to be the one to defuse and de-escalate agitated situations, which, she mentioned, is very important and a very powerful ministry in their context, since, in her own words, "Latin people are hot-blooded and get quickly animated about all sorts of things – both good and bad."

So it's very important that, whenever we speak, we don't react, but instead respond choosing our words carefully and intentionally.

This is especially important in our age of digital communications, when we're not only tempted, but we're entirely able, to fire off e-mails or texts without really thinking through what we're doing...what we're writing and saying. Just because we have the ability to communicate instantly doesn't necessarily mean we always should.

How many arguments have begun over thoughtless comments either written or posted somewhere?

Not only has our ability to communicate instantly made the pace of our world at times almost unlivable...and has allowed us to communicate even more things that we later regret, it's also made our communication less accurate. People need time to be able to do truly good work. We need time to think things through and say what we really mean. We are not machines, and we make mistakes and we get careless when we move too fast.

Since He made us, God knows this. So even millennia before communication could be instant like we know it today, we read in Proverbs: "The wise use words carefully and intentionally and in a calm and measured manner."

In fact, verse 28, the follow-up verse to 27, shows the power of this kind of intentional, careful speech: this kind of self-control of our words is so influential that it can even make a fool look wise. Think about that. There are, really, very few ways to make a foolish person appear wise, but here's one; few words, or no words at all, can often be the smartest and wisest thing...any person can offer.

This is a timeless principle. These kinds of sayings are found in literature contemporary with the Proverbs; they're in literature earlier than Proverbs; and they're in writings more contemporary to today. Depending on who you believe, it was either Abraham Lincoln or Mark Twain, who said, "It is better to be silent and be thought a fool than to open one's mouth and remove all doubt."

Considering this, I contemplated simply leaving this space blank this issue. Maybe I should have.

But I bring this up because, not only do all of us speak and write to friends and family, many of us share words, either by speaking or writing...preaching or teaching or something, professionally. Some of us make our livings with words.

What we all should remember is, with our words, we not only represent ourselves, our family, our church, our business, our school, and whatever other group we're a part of, we also, more than all these, represent Christ. We represent Him in our lectures and sermons and letters and our other "official" communications. We also represent Christ in our phone calls and texts and e-mails and blog posts. The things we tweet or post on Facebook or Pinterest. We represent Christ in our conversations in the hallway or the elevator or the car.

Even when we're exercising.

Pairs of people...groups of people run by my house on the street all the time and, because our study is so near the street (and poorly insulated) you can hear everything they say as they talk together. You'd be amazed at some of the things I've heard Christian people...Christian leaders...say while they walk or run.

To speak or not to speak. That is the question. The answer is to simply remember that we have an option. We speak of Christ best, sometimes, when we say nothing...but always when we choose our words and manner for the sake of His glory.

School Outreach

By Caitlin Gothay, School Outreach Team Leader

As we near the end of the school year we are pleased to announce some successes throughout this year. We were able to supply Jessamine Early Learning Village with 30 "Food for Kids" bags each week. We were also able to pick up food and package 18 bags (through money donated) for Wilmore Elementary each week. The youth of the church took great initiative getting involved in this ministry from going shopping with me, to helping me unload my car, to packaging the bags!

We were also able to take gifts of encouragement to all the Youth Service Coordinators in the district in the fall, and a candy bar with a note of encouragement to all the Jessamine County teachers and staff this spring! Our doors were always open to requests and we were able to provide Brookside Elementary with some extra clothes for children to change into if they had a spill or accident. We ministered to the Head Start program at Christmas time providing all the children with a Christmas story book. Also, we are thankful to have been able to provide gifts to graduates this spring so that they all know somebody out there cares for them! We look forward to some growth in ministry opportunity next year and are open to anyone who would like to join our team! If this is an outreach that interests you, contact me (Caitlin) at gothay.caitlin@gmail.com.

Prison Ministry

By Ted Moon, Prison Ministry Team Leader

Hugh Sims led the service on Sunday evening this past month at the Nicholasville jail. He spoke on "God's six purposes for allowing adversities in our lives."

There was good attendance (about 15 men) and a good response. At the end of the message there was a corporate prayer of confession, repentance, re-dedication and salvation. Several men also asked for individual prayer after the main service concluded. Thank you for your continued prayer for this outreach, and for the Daily Bread devotionals many of you drop off at the church office for us to distribute.

Rachel Waters

You may not realize just how interesting new attendee Rachel Waters is if you find yourself sitting next to her on Sunday morning, and it would be a shame for anyone to miss out on this gem of a woman!

Rachel moved to Wilmore at the end of 2015 and began attending WFMC shortly thereafter, having visited previously with a friend. The last few years were difficult for Rachel and she has walked a painful path, but those days served to increase and strengthen her faith in God and to remind her that He is always caring for her, no matter how far away she might stray.

Even though Rachel started college late in life at the age of 35, she has since earned a Bachelor's degree in Sociology and History and went on to earn a Masters Degree from UK in Race Relations and the Civil Rights movement.

Rachel loves to tell and hear stories and enjoys reading and watching documentaries about nature and history. She is also hungry to keep learning, expanding and growing in her knowledge of the world around her.

In her free time, Rachel enjoys baking cakes, pies and breads. She has two grown children, Megan and Ginger, and two grandchildren Kady and Brady. Rachel is single and shares her home with 80 pounds of laziness named Duke, her rescue dog.

Kentucky is only one of the many states Rachel has lived in over the course of her life. Others include Florida, Texas, Arizona, Colorado,

New Mexico, Utah, Washington, Maryland, and Oregon. She also spent three years in Germany as a military wife.

Rachel works at Fitch's IGA in Wilmore, so if you stop by, don't hesitate to introduce yourself!

Ann Warnock

Even though Ann Warnock has only recently become a member at WFMC, she is probably a familiar face to many of you! Having attended the church several times a year for the last 15 years as a visitor, she now calls it her home. A painful path led Ann to WFMC but she is so thankful to be among friends and family who embrace her. Ann feels that even during very difficult and painful times in her life, God's timing was absolutely perfect and amazed her over and over again. At times when she didn't know what was happening, she later realized that God was preparing her for things to come that she wasn't yet aware of.

Ann's daughter, Katie Diddle, attends WFMC and her husband Jerry is the pastor's brother. Jerry and Katie have two children, Abbie and Nathan. Ann also has a son, Frank, who with his wife Katie has two daughters, Madeline and Elliott.

Ann works part-time for Nicholasville Pediatrics as the front desk receptionist and lives in Nicholasville. In her free time, she likes to spend time with her grandchildren and friends as well as working on home decorating, creating silk flower arrangements, and doing various other crafts.

She also travels often to see her son, who is career army and currently stationed in Kansas, as well as traveling to Ohio once a month to help her mother who lives in an independent facility with assistance. Ann enjoys attending her Sunday school class at WFMC and does the scheduling for social activities. She also attends Ladies Night Out once a month. Her daughter Katie directs a handbell choir that Ann rings for and she sings in the sanctuary choir.

Don't hesitate to introduce yourself to Ann the next time you see her!

Getting to Know You

By Anna Koehn

SUMMER IS THE SEASON for new folk moving to our area, often to attend school at AU or ATS, and many will visit us here at WFMC. Please take the initiative to greet those unfamiliar faces around you before and after worship. It's a hard thing to move to a new place, change vocations, and find a new church family. Let's do all we can to ease their transition; that's what Jesus would do.

WFMC Bible Quizzing 2016-2017 Recap

By Coach Renee Riffell

I am so excited to share with our church family what the WFMC Bible Quiz Team has been doing this year. I'm sure you've seen the trophies here and there, but we'd love to give you a glimpse of all we've been up to throughout the year. I'd like to begin by expressing our heartfelt gratitude to each of you who have supported us. Many of you have prayed, encouraged, and provided for us financially through our fundraisers and donations. We are truly grateful for your ongoing support. We know we could not have this ministry without you. Thank you!

During this 2016-17 season, we have traveled to nine monthly quiz meets that have taken us to parts of Indiana, Illinois, and West Virginia. These hundreds of miles on the road have afforded us the opportunity to not only use our travel time to study, but also to make lasting memories. The team has made new friends at these meets from different areas, and given us the opportunity to see old ones.

We are so grateful that we have had safety in our travels. Of course, there is the competition piece when the quizzers get to show what they have learned in the previous month. These are always fun to watch! It has been such a blessing to see the youth grow in different ways throughout the year. Whether we come home with a trophy or not, they have gained a far better treasure – the Word in their hearts and minds!

In January, we had the opportunity to host 18 teams from three different conferences for the Bluegrass Open Quiz Meet. Many of you hosted teams, and cooked meals and made donations to the lunch we provided during the meet. The day went off without a hitch! Many thanks to all of you!

We had the opportunity to do fundraising throughout the year as well. Our fern and mum sales this year brought in approximately $1700. We had the opportunity to work six Keenland clean up nights that brought in an additional $3600. We had 72 volunteers working over several hours and made such fun memories along the way with many laughs, a little work, and ice cream at McDonald's afterwards.

As we look back, our team of 13 quizzers experienced the fruits of their labor as they studied the books of Galatians, Ephesians, Philippians, Colossians, and Philemon. They memorized 829 passages of scripture, which is over 1000 verses! They've studied hours, upon hours, upon hours, upon hours. We have traveled hundreds of miles and spent more hours in Wendy's than anyone ever should (there's a story there ☺). But above all, as a team, we have experienced the love, prayers, and support of our church family.

We are so grateful!

As we ready ourselves for our national competition in Rochester, New York this July, we covet your prayers as we continue to study and grow. We can't wait to see what the Lord teaches us the remainder of this season! And we can't wait to share it with you!

Missions Trip to Brasili

By Jan Coleman

On Palm Sunday a ten-member team from our church returned from a ten-day ministry trip to Luziânia, Brazil. Our goal was to partner with a local Free Methodist Church being planted in a “bedroom” community of Brasilia, Brazil’s capital city. Free Methodist Missionary hosts, Dan and Hope Owsley, paved the way for a full and rich time of construction work on their building project, neighborhood canvassing, and 9 gospel presentations in local public schools. We presented and preached in three local Free Methodist churches, with a number of people making first time decisions for Jesus. The team members stayed in the homes of church families which provided a wonderful opportunity to enjoy deeper fellowship and improve communication skills, both verbal and non-verbal, as most of our hosts had little knowledge of the English language.

On the last day, as we gathered for a final meal together with our new Brazilian friends, many of us gave short speeches of gratitude for our time together. Claudia, the local pastor’s wife, summed up the experience this way: “We become a church when God sends strangers who bring us new hope and new vigor. In every detail we see the fulfillment of God’s promises to us. Here in this hot, sunny place we have hoped in God’s grace and have lived by faith, working, and believing in God’s love for this place. Through you God has written one more chapter in our story. This group from your church was small but steadfast, humble, full of love, strong and courageous. The blistering sun did not discourage you. In fact, it made you more determined. God sent you to teach us humility, simplicity, unity, and how to serve Christ with joy at all times. You came not to be served but to give of your best. This is love, a love without limits that comes from the heart of God.”

Local Free Methodist leaders told us that our team met and exceeded their expectations. We saw several people make decisions for Jesus for the first time through worship services; witnessed through presentations, and conversion testimonies, in three local public schools; and finished nearly all the foundation work on the local church building project. Some of our teammates’ lives will forever be changed as this was the first time for several to ever leave the United States.

How to get involved:

- * Pray
- * Donate – money, $25 gift cards to Walmart or Kroger
- * Volunteer – ESL tutoring, transportation to doctor appointments, office volunteer, be part of a friendship team

Kentucky Refugee Ministries helps to resettle families and individuals who are forced to flee their home country. They then assist these refugees to become self-sufficient as soon as possible. KRM helps refugees find jobs, learn English, and adjust to American culture.

When I asked Dabney Parker of KRM for a story that stuck out to her about what Kentucky Refugee Ministries is all about, she told me about a young couple from Iraq. They had only been married for 7 months when they were relocated to Kentucky. Dabney's church co-sponsored this young couple when they moved here. Co-sponsors are an instant group of friends, a support network to help refugees not feel quite so alone. It can be daunting to be hundreds of miles from home, away from family and friends, surrounded by a language and culture that you don't understand. This young Iraqi couple now have 3 children. The husband is now a professor at UK and is associated with the Markey Cancer Center. The wife is also getting back into medicine. Dabney said, "The best gift you can give to refugees is the gift of friendship." God calls His people to reach the world, and the world has come to our backyard. Ask God today how He would have you be involved.

Emergency Prayer Answered!

By Beth Boisvert

In 1996 I was on a temporary job assignment in the Washington, D.C. area. My 19 year old daughter lived with me there over summer break from college. In August we packed up both of our cars and headed back home to Ohio from where she would continue on to Asbury College in Wilmore, KY. We left early in the morning for the seven hour drive home and were almost there when life almost changed forever. I always listen to Christian music when I travel and was having a very peaceful drive when I noticed that my daughter, who had been following me, was moving very quickly up and passing me on the left. At that moment I looked over at her and realized that she was asleep, but still driving. I panicked! I only had time for an urgent prayer of "Jesus help her!" before she veered off the road and into the grassy medium. Cars coming from the other direction immediately began to move away from her approach and before I knew it she had spun around in several circles and stopped the car. I pulled off the freeway and ran across the road to her. A man behind me followed and as we got to her car he identified himself as an off duty policeman. My daughter appeared to be waking up from a fog. The Policeman was amazed at the driving that had taken place and stated that it was comparable to how he was trained to drive in his profession! My daughter had never had such training. I knew immediately that it was not my daughter driving, but that Jesus had answered that urgent prayer and had taken over the steering wheel to save her. He is an ever present help in time of trouble and that fact was never truer for me than that day, an example of how prayers do not have to be long and involved for God to hear and answer. We can just cry out His name and He hears us. Thanks to God for answered emergency prayers!

Mark Your Calendar Upcoming All-Church Socials

By Marilyn Swaim

Join us on June 18 for a Pot Luck Breakfast at 9:40 a.m. in the CMC during the Sunday School/ABF hour. Please bring a generous dish to share: Breakfast casserole, fruit, breads, etc. Drinks will be provided.

Be on the lookout! We will be having a series of sidewalk socials during the summer months. See your bulletin for notices.

Promotion Sunday is August 20. We will be kicking off the new Sunday School and ABF year with a pot luck breakfast and introductions to the fall classes. Details will be announced.

Friendly reminder: Don't be shy! Write your name on your dishes, lids, etc. And remember that the church kitchen can provide all serving spoons, spatulas, etc. We are always looking for helping hands on the social team! Friendly faces and willing hands are welcome. We are a pretty fun bunch. Join us by noting, "Socials" on your Sunday Communication Card.

Children's Worship Jr.

We need loving hands to play with, care for, and tell stories to 2-3 year olds during both worship services in July and August.

We are also needing adults who are willing to commit to being on the schedule for the next term beginning in September.

Each worker commits to a month at a time and will serve 3-4 months out of the year. The more team members we have, the less number of months are served.

The lessons need no preparation. Each lesson comes with a coloring page.

Please contact Cathy Bickert at 859-858-0911 or bickert6@juno.com for more information.

Funeral Dinner Ministry

Showing love to families at a time of great need is such a blessing to them, and to us. Our church offers a family meal at the church after a funeral or memorial service. We are always looking to add more people to our list of those who are willing to provide a dish when called upon. You would not be called for every funeral, but would be in a rotation. We would love to add you to the list. All are welcome, and we are especially needing to add a few more homemade roll bakers to the rotation. If you are available to help serve at a dinner, or clean up after, we'd love to know that, as well. Please respond on the Communication Card on Sunday, or contact Marilyn Swaim (859 792 8473. mjswaim@windstream.net).

WFMC welcomes

Stan Wiggam to the church staff as our new, volunteer Project Assistant.

Over the next year, Stan will, in many ways, continue in the volunteer role he's held for over ten years as Building and Construction Planning Team Leader, albeit in an expanded, staff position, helping coordinate the completion of the facility and working through other facility-oriented projects, policies and teams.

YOUNG MARRIEDS /
YOUNG FAMILIES

Marriage Ministries

Do you want Me in your marriage?
Really? How much?

We have just finished our Wednesday evening video series on marriage by Jimmie Evans. There was much shared by Pastor Evans that we could, and did, take home with us to apply in our married lives.

It is our belief that the Lord is more than pleased when He sees ANY married couple desiring to grow EVEN MORE in their relationship through their intentional pursuit of books & magazine articles; couples-over coffee-dialogue; marriage events & video series; and any other type of growth possibility!

Our next series on Marriage will be in the fall of 2017. In order for us to know just how to better serve YOU and YOUR marriage, please talk to any one of us regarding topics, place, days, etc. that would better fit your needs and schedule.

Hope we will see you next time!
