Good News!

By Daryl Diddle

After a long, gray (and for a few days, very, very cold) winter, are you ready for some good news? I'd imagine you are - we all are. Well, let me be the bearer of some.

Good news number one: the Lord visited our church and community in a special way this winter! We have yet to really know the full impact of the Asbury Outpouring. Some of us were tremendously touched and helped during those days. Others of us looked on in appreciation but were maybe not as directly impacted. Still others of us looked on with curiosity and maybe even a bit of concern or reservation. Well, that's OK, because here's the thing: just like a rising tide lifts all ships, so does God's presence lift all people in one way or another. A vibrant body of Christ is a blessing to it's greater community, even if the community doesn't fully realize it. That means that, sooner or later, we'll all benefit in some way... and when we do, it's important that we give Him glory.

Good news! Spring is around the corner! As I write this (on Monday, March 6) it's sunny and 72 degrees! Of course it will not likely stay this warm, but the grass is greening and the trees and flowers are budding, which all reminds me that God is not only the Creator; He's also the Re-creator – the one who can take what's dead and make it alive again. Spring, just like every season, brings God glory.

Good news! Back on March 1, our church paid off our building loan, so we are now officially debt free! Over the past 17 years, we were able to invest roughly four million dollars into our facilities, raising / paying three million as we went along and borrowing a little over one million (at a fixed interest rate of 4% - remarkable for a commercial loan.) This payoff comes several years early as well, due to overpayments, which, of course, substantially reduced our total interest paid. Praise the Lord for His faithfulness to us...and may the use of these facilities continue to bring Him glory.

Good news! As of January 1, the operating budget of our church is now matching financial gifts to missions dollar for dollar. For several years, we matched at 75%, meaning the operating budget donated 75 cents for every dollar designated for missions. But with the payoff of our buildings, we have raised the match amount. This means that for every dollar given that is designated to "missions," the operating budget invests a dollar in missions; so a gift of $100.00 designated to missions becomes $200.00 for missions. Our church plans to give nearly $150,000.00 to World and Home Mission causes / organizations / missionaries – outside our church walls both locally and overseas – in 2023... that God might receive glory.

Good news! After several years of not being able to send a mission team overseas (due to Covid,) we are able to send a team to Kenya. On top of that, the trip has been fully covered financially. We look forward to hearing how God was glorified in Team Kenya's trip on some Sunday night in the near future.

Good news! Several of our church family have experienced the healing touch of the Lord – some in an earthly way (like Ava Hall, Lee Taylor and Carole Dickie) and others in an eternal way (Elsie Kleffman and Lowell Williamson.) May God be glorified in the lives, and the deaths, of His saints.

In a world where bad news is often highlighted, it's good to remember that the Lord is still very much at work helping His people and calling others to Himself...all for His glory.

"To the King of the ages, immortal, invisible, the only God, be honor and glory forever and ever."
1 Timothy 1:17

A Walk for the Ages

By Lee Taylor

An early childhood memory is of my mother reading to me from a popular ten volume set of Bible stories. An enduring reminder from those sessions was the author's intriguing account of Enoch (an early Biblical figure discussed in Genesis 5). The particular chapter title in my story book was "The Man Who Walked Right Into Heaven". What I heard in that story was that in spite of Adam and Eve's sin, and despite the cascading evil in the pre-flood world, Enoch discovered a special relationship with God. So special that God did eventually receive him into Heaven sparing him physical death. My main takeaway even 60 years later; God is looking for lovers. Persons that will talk to Him, listen for His leading, and walk in His ways.

One could say the story of Enoch is so unique we can't even relate to it. Certainly Enoch is a singular figure, but those verses exist to inspire not just mystify. God valued those walks with Enoch, and yet we know that God is not a respecter of persons (Rom. 2:11). Therefore we don't consider Enoch's journey simply in isolation, but rather see it in light of the rest of scripture. We find that the word of God consistently points us toward a walk with God rooted in personal prayer. One can look at the place of prayer in a sterling figure like the prophet Daniel or a more tarnished hero like King David. It is prayer that tethers both to the Almighty, and it is that relationship which equips each to meet the triumphs and failures of life. Even the Lord Jesus himself, although sharing in the divine nature, was still the very image of insatiable prayer. All these exemplars offer a strong case for prioritizing private prayer. You probably know from your own observations that those around us with the most consistent walk and witness of the faith are people of prayer. From the opposite vantage point you may have experienced, as have I, when time with God is pushed aside, our joy and peace can quickly erode.

So then, let's call our first prayer point "priority"; defined here as 'not letting prayer get crowded out'. What might be a logical second point? Allow me to nominate "persistence". Persistence is a natural corollary to priority. For instance one could say, 'only by persisting against sloth, distraction, and melancholy was I able to maintain prayer as a priority.' That is a sound conclusion, however, a deeper aspect of persistence is captured by a pair of parables that Jesus employs. I am thinking here of the "parable of the persistent widow" and the "parable of the friend at midnight" (Luke 18 & Luke 11 respectively). In each case the supplicants are rewarded for their dogged determination. I see Jesus saying to us something like this: even though the Heavenly Father is not an unjust judge, or a sleepy neighbor (quite the opposite), while we live in the dimness of this fallen world we must persist in our asking just as if He were reluctant. Said another way, it is beyond us to know all the forces that may block our petitions. Equally true, we also need to be in ongoing discernment about God's will in any given matter. Therefore the nature of our conversations may evolve, but we never need to walk away in frustration. The resolve to stay engaged in prayer, always trusting in God's presence and sufficiency, is the essence of walking by faith.

Next, how is the content of our prayers? There are many helpful models and outlines about structuring prayer (Enter his courts with thanksgiving as a starting point --this an example of the type of advice to which I refer.) However, time and space dictate we not unpack more than we can thoughtfully address. Instead I want to point our emphasis toward yet another word starting with "p"; that word is "purpose". Do we entreat God for large consequential purposes? Are our prayers broad enough to take into account our world and Christ's church in it? Questions like these sound rhetorical, but they should challenge us to not let our vision for prayer shrink down to only our immediate wants and needs. Certainly we are instructed to pray for daily bread, but immediately before that, we are taught to pray for the coming of the Kingdom of God on earth (Mt. 6: 9-13). An excellent scripture based treatment of the subject of praying with purpose may be found in an earlier Plumblin edition, shared with us by Dr. Charlie Fiskeaux (Praying For Things That Matter. The Plumblin: Oct.-Nov. 2022). In case you missed it, allow me to recommend it highly.

To recap, did Enoch make prayer a priority? It seems manifestly obvious he did. Did he find himself needing to persist amidst the collapsing culture he witnessed? I can't imagine otherwise, and I conclude similarly on the issue of the scope and purpose of Enoch's legendary conversations with God. These prayers must have been very rich indeed. Finally, it would be incomplete to conclude that Enoch forged this relationship by simply discovering a good formula and being a person of great discipline. Two parting thoughts on that: the prevenient grace of the Holy Spirit was working as He always is. Enoch, for his part, was a willing and open vessel in which that grace could work. Secondly, Enoch didn't walk with God out of sheer determination, or even just to receive a good reward. Enoch had learned to love, adore, and worship his Creator. Enoch loved God, not for personal gain, but for God's own sake. On this pinnacle resides all the rest.

Bible Quizzing Update

We are going into the last two quiz meets of our season before nationals in Greenville, Illinois. Every one of our quizzers has done fantastic and we are so proud of them! This year, they have been quizzing over 1 & 2 Timothy, Titus, and Matthew 1-13. One of our quotes is Matthew 4:4 which sums up what these quizzers have learned. "Jesus answered, "It is written: 'Man shall not live on bread alone, but on every word that comes from the mouth of God.'" They have dedicated the year to studying God's Word and hiding it in their hearts. We have witnessed them not just learn the words but live them out in their personal faith journeys. Thank you for praying for each of these quizzers. We know that they will carry these Scriptures for the rest of their lives. As our season comes to an end and we look toward nationals, we remember the words Paul spoke to Timothy, "Now to the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only God, be honor and glory for ever and ever. Amen" (1 Timothy 1:17).

Upcoming quiz meets:

West Morris Street, Indianapolis, Indiana (May 12)

Getting to Know You

By Sue Adkins

Faye Henning moved from Minneapolis MN to Tifton, Georgia during the summer before she turned 13 and was inspired by the Reverend Billy Key to give her life to Christ, and later to attend Asbury College. Jimmy Henning moved from Oklahoma to Georgia, first living in north Georgia and then moving to Tifton. They began dating in 1976 and were married in 1982 by Reverend Key, whose son Danny is now a member of WFMC. Jimmy sang in the first group Danny conducted in the summer of 1975. Faye and Jimmy have now been married for 40 years!

Faye moved to Wilmore in 1978 to attend Asbury college. Jimmy and Faye moved to Nicholasville in 1983 for Jimmy to attend UK for his PhD. After UK, they moved to Missouri for four years. In 1990 they moved back to Kentucky for Jimmy to work at the Extension Service at UK as the forage specialist where he has continued to work for 33 years, including 14 years as an administrator.

Faye has a music degree and has been a church choir director and worked for Fayette County Public schools.

Jimmy and Faye have one daughter, Anna. Anna and her husband Nick have three boys: Winston 6, Oakley, 4 and Elend, 2. Faye loves to be with her grandsons and cares for them when Anna teaches.

"Our lives are filled to the brim with our delightful grandsons," Faye says. "They love asking questions and trying new things. We spend a lot of time reading each day, and they enjoy being outside as much as possible. Each spring, we plant sunflower seeds. We start them in small containers, then move them to the garden. Our porch swing allows us to watch the birds enjoying the fruits of our labors!"

Faye and Jimmy also love to travel and have a trip to Oregon planned for this summer. Jimmy enjoys photography. He has been taking pictures since he was 13 years old, and he looks forward to retiring so he can continue this hobby! Faye dabbles in quilting and is starting a pollinator garden this spring. Both Faye and Jimmy also enjoy singing in the choir, and they are considering taking up biking this spring!

Jimmy gave his heart to God when he was 8 years old. Faye became a Christian when she was 13. Both have been growing and learning as they have shared life together. They each have a servant's heart and are always willing to help!

Jimmy and Faye began attending WFMC in March, 2022.

"We had been thinking we needed to look for a new church home" Faye says. "Then a good friend of ours was coming to town and was planning to spend the night with us. Lynelle Vogel and her husband Doug had been on staff at WFMC in the 1980's and she wanted to visit while she was here, so we came with her and we loved everything about this church right away – the music, the ministers, the people! We felt right at home from our first visit!"

Faye is now also teaching the 2-3 year old Sunday school class, filling in for Patti Butterworth and getting to know our energetic preschoolers. Her years of experience as a music director combined with caring for her grandchildren has given her the right blend of patience, joy, and stamina for this role, and the children enjoy her.

We are thankful that the Hennings have become part of our WFMC church family.

Music Ministries Update “Take Note”

Here are some important music dates to remember for the coming months. Mark your calendars now!

April 24 7:00PM Spring Ring: Handbell and Chime Concert
April 30 8:30 and 11:00AM Children-led Morning Worship Services
May 7 6:00PM Singing Celebration

Sometimes we get so familiar with the “way we do things” that we forget that others, especially visitors, may not be so familiar with the way we sing. As you notice folks around you who may not be familiar or used to using a hymnal or worship guide/insert, please help them out, show them the hymnal, the worship supplement, offer an encouraging word, and a smile! We want everyone to feel free to participate in corporate worship, no matter their background. Thanks for your help.

Please contact Mark Schell or Rose Evans if you have any questions regarding the music ministry at WPMC or if you are interested in being a soloist for music ministry, on a music team for worship services, or in a music ensemble. Let's continue to sing and make music to our Lord!

Asbury Outpouring Update

Thank you, WPMC, from the bottom of my heart and on behalf of Asbury University for the ways you served sacrificially during the Outpouring at AU. Truly, God did an extraordinary thing in our city for 16 days (and now continues around the world!) by pouring out love, goodness, and forgiveness on people from around the world. We believe that 50,000 people came to Wilmore across those days from all over the globe and from over 300 colleges and universities. Many people made first time commitments to Jesus and many made commitments to fully surrender to Jesus. Thousands worshipped together in a beautiful and powerful way in the Holy Spirit. Thank you for ushering, serving on the prayer team, helping with the line, blessing people, bringing food, housing students, being patient with the traffic and more. Thank you for all the ways you said "yes"!

With deep appreciation, thank you!

Book Reviews

An Easter Gift for Me written by Crystal Bowman

The rhyming text and colorful pictures will hold the attention of a pre-school child. The book is made with hard pages so even a toddler will enjoy touching and holding the book. Some of Jesus miracles are included as well as the crucifixion and resurrection. The crucifixion illustration portrayed in such a way as not to frighten a young child.

The Story of Easter by Gwen Ellis

This book is divided into 13 condensed chapters representing 13 events from Palm Sunday through the Ascension. Steve Smallman, illustrator, uses "cartoon" type drawings to share the Easter events. Seven to ten year olds will enjoy this book. At the end there are pictures to remind the reader of the events. The child can retell that particular event. It would be a good way for a parent to see if the child has comprehended the last days before Jesus ascended into Heaven.

Youth Ministry Update

Spring Retreat 2023 at Eagle Ridge Retreat Center in Bowling Green, KY

First off let me thank all of you who pray for and serve our youth in a variety of ways. It is extra appreciated as I have been in a time of low physical energy and ability. The teens in our church and community never cease to amaze me with their desire to grow in the Lord, their care for each other, and in their creativity.

2023 has been off to an eventful start! We went to Winter Jam at Rupp arena and hit the slopes in January for the annual ski trip. We seem to always be blessed with diverse weather while traveling, but we made the most out of the fluff snow on our return trip morning and had a snowball fight.

Teens helped with CLC

February gave us opportunities to serve the littles and collaborate with CLC. Our big kids did crafts and shared a snack with the little ones. We also took a senior outing to throw axes, ride go-karts and bowl. February also held one of my favorite outings - ice skating. It is so fun to watch the youth of all abilities help each other and have fun!

Ice skating at the Lexington Ice Center

March kicked off with a good time as we went to Eagle Ridge for our spring retreat. We continued in our teachings on being ordinary people, but people who have been with Jesus. The youth were challenged to evaluate who/what they are tethered to and shift that tether cord fully to Jesus.

April 30th will be our Senior Recognition Service/ Reception at 6PM. Please consider being there to celebrate our 2023 graduates!

Prison Ministry

Men's Prison Ministry

How can we pray for those who are in prison. Here are four suggestions you might use in your prayers regarding those who are behind bars.

1. Pray for the provision of the imprisoned. Pray that they might find comfort and contentment with the things that are provided. Pray that God's presence and peace might be evident in their lives.

2. Pray for the faith of the imprisoned. Pray that God would use this time of isolation to make their faith grow. Pray that God would use them as witnesses of the gospel to their fellow inmates.

3. Pray for the spouses and children of the imprisoned. The greatest concern, especially of the women, is for their children. Pray that God would supply the family needs. Also, pray for their caregivers and for the children who are missing their parent. Pray for patience and that God would protect them.

4. Pray for the forgiveness of the imprisoned. Pray that God would grant forgiveness to these inmates for the crimes that were committed. May it be that those who are affected will show forgiveness.

There were 16 men who attended the Sunday evening service. We thank God for the opportunity to share His word and His love. Thank you for lifting up this ministry in prayer.

Women's Prison Ministry

We had 10 ladies join us for a time of reflection (and tears) on Jesus' coming to be with outcasts and people who knew they were sinners. We used Matthew the tax collector in Matthew 9:9-13 as an example. We explored our thoughts on the recent Asbury Outpouring and the sense of deep remorse, repentance and thanksgiving and how vulnerable those present, both at Hughes Auditorium and in our room, were in acknowledging the need for release from jealousy, anxiety, addiction, anger, hurt and much more. And we declared that only Christ can offer the life-changing forgiveness and peace, even in life's storms.

The ladies asked that the guard make copies of the prayer I'd written out at the end to take back to their cells. Thank you for your continuing prayers for this ministry that we all feel blessed to be a part of.

Eastern KY Flood Relief

Did you know that the floods last year in Eastern KY have not been fully cleaned up? If you would like to assist this recovery effort, WFMC is leading two Saturday trips to the region on April 22 and May 20. Please contact Keith Madill (kjemadill5@gmail.com) with any questions.
